

ABSTRACT

Monolithic pharmaceutical composition containing metformin hydrophobic polymer and/or other hydrophobic material. Process of producing a sustained release of the composition that includes granulating metformin hydrochloride and hydrophobic polymer and/or other hydrophobic material by hot melt granulation or by extrusion and drying the granulated product.